PIN No: MKT-25
Date: January 13, 2011

Issue:
Subject: Rusbox 6.4-32

This subject software is available for immediate release. This version is compatible with Windows 7 and Microsoft Excel 2010 along with older version of Windows and Excel. It includes January 2011 pricing as well as the newest extended range R404a hermetic condensing unit models. A hyperlink has also been added to the box load report page to direct users to the Russell website in order that they might check finished goods inventory or obtain pertinent product literature.

The program is available in three configurations.

- Rusbox version NP contains no pricing module. This basic version of the program is intended for use by contractors and other businesses to assist them in box load sizing and equipment selection. These users would then contact their local refrigeration wholesaler or Russell representative to obtain pricing information. Customers who purchase equipment per a special Net Price agreement would also use this version.
- Rusbox version NV includes the pricing module but does not contain V-Series 20 to 60HP condensing unit pricing. The user may obtain current list prices for smaller R-Series and D-Series systems, but when selecting the larger condensing units a user is required to contact the local Russell Representative for pricing, thus allowing the Rep to become involved with the project. This version is intended for most Russell customers.
- Rusbox (no suffix) is the full version of the program and contains list pricing for all systems including V-Series condensing units. It is primarily intended for use by the Product Applications department, Russell direct sales personnel and Russell Representatives.

This notice announcement coincides with the official release of R-Series Product Bulletin 502.16 containing the latest Minicon condensing unit data. See PIN notice TCO-39 for further details regarding these condensing units.
