

Think the others offer you more? Think again.

Only Russell's All-Temp unit cooler is stocked in 64 different capacities. That's more models than is offered by any other manufacturer of low profile unit coolers. But more than that, it means with Russell you get the size coil that's right for your job... not a compromise unit.

With Russell's All-Temp you have: the choice of standard, electric or hot gas defrost; all aluminum for ammonia service; "off the shelf", standard, brand-name, life-time lubricated motors for easier servicing; 115, 208 or 230 volt motors at no extra charge; protective coating for corrosive atmospheres; a one-year warranty on the entire unit; UL listing and CSA and NSF approvals.

Delivery? Russell averages 48 hours shipment on any size unit.

Still think the others offer you more? Think again. Think Russell.

Russell All-Temp... the original, often copied, now industry popular, low-profile unit cooler.
